

Do not allow cell phone usage on airplanes. There is no hard evidence to prove cell phone use will not interfere with navigational instruments, cell phone use would enable terrorists to more effectively coordinate a plan of action, the NPRM would leave it to flight attendants to police the use of cell phones, compromising our ability to maintain a safe, secure cabin environment and to conduct emergency evacuations, and it would make an already tense environment even more stressful.